Global conflict

Global patterns

Global patterns: fragility and hunger

This is what endogeneity looks like

Global trends

---

- “Post-conflict countries with high food insecurity are 40% more likely to relapse into conflict within 10 years”
  - FAO (2016)
- By 2030, the share of global poor living in fragile and conflict-affected situations is projected to reach 46%, up from 17% today.
  - The World Bank Group on Fragility (2017)

What policy? dominant views

---

- “Increased investment and industrialization will help to unlock the potential for job creation and poverty reduction in African countries.”
  - Makhtar Diop (VP for Africa) et al.
- “[D]eveloping countries face substantially higher risks of violent conflict and poor governance if they are highly dependent on primary commodities.”
  - Ian Bannon (Fragile States, Conflict and Social Development in Africa)

What policy?

Food and Nutrition Security Interventions

■ Conflict affected counties

■ Common theme: invest in conflict sensitiveness

Dilemma 1: Investing in agriculture?

Global investments in land

- Understand potential drivers of conflict
- Who gains, who loses? At what cost?
  - A case for conflict sensitivity analysis?

GCP : Helping Poor Farmers Grow Money: Sustainable Cocoa Productivity and Socio-Economic Impacts of International Investments in Sierra Leone

Dilemma 2: Climate adaptation?

“Don’t wait for peace to fight climate change”

Large-scale land acquisitions in West-African drylands result in conflict

<http://www.adaptationlandscapes.org/>

Dilemma 3: Reducing conflict?

---

- Investing in cassava: food security in Uganda
- Co-create! with farmers, NGOs, Private Sector

ARF2 Cassava Applied Research for food security in Northern Uganda

Key statement 1: What risks are acceptable?

---

- How do we balance productivity and inclusiveness?
- Conflict sensitive designs are needed
  - ...supported by:
    - development practitioners,
    - governments
    - and the private sector.

Key statement 2: Climate change

---

- Conflict-sensitive designs are needed for climate interventions
  - to avoid (local) conflicts
- Invest to know existing conflict dynamics

Key statement 3: Public not Private

---

- Governments have a responsibility in designing food security interventions in a conflict-sensitive manner
- This cannot be left to the private sector ---they driven by other motives.

Pitches ARF & GCP and other research projects

- ARF "Cassava Applied Research for Food Security in Northern Uganda" – Christopher Kyeswa (A2N - Africa 2000 Network)
- GCP "Helping poor farmers grow money in Sierra Leone" - Maarten Voors (WUR)
- CCMCC "Towards Inclusive Climate Change Interventions" – Sebastiaan Soeters (Utrecht University)

Policy response

- Abdullah Hashi (Ministry of Foreign Affairs)

World Café

One concept note statement / dilemma is discussed per table:

Round 1: What does this dilemma mean to you? (20min)

Round 2: What is the role of policy in this? Is change needed? (20min)

Round 3: What can you (as individual or within your organisation) do to contribute to this change? (20min)

Exchange of Actions

Round 4: What will you (as individual or within your organisation) do (differently) to contribute to this change?

> Post-it on the flipchart

Wrap up & Follow-up

How will the research – policy dialogue on ‘Food security, conflict and resilience’ be taken forward?
